

GPS Simulator Courses Available from

Abegweit Crossing

A Canadian course, is situated in a valley and surrounded by hills and mountains. This Parkland course is a true test of golf using the undulating fairways and river Abegweit the runs through the course. The newly planted trees are already in place to capture miss-hit shots and can only make the course more difficult as time goes by.

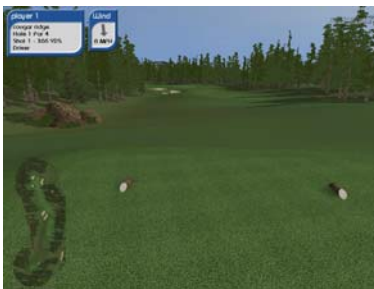

Chinook Cascadia Country Club

This is a relatively flat golf course based in Washington, USA, surrounded by a high mountain range. The course is particularly beautiful with azaleas and trees surrounding most fairways. It is a par 72 course, that is 7337 yards long, laid out in the shape of a Chinook Salmon.

Cougar Ridge Golf Club

This undulating course is set by the side of a stunning mountain range in Colorado, USA. Cut through dense pine forests finding the narrow fairways is paramount, as the greens are well protected by the pine trees and bunkers. It is a Par 72 and is 7267 yards in length.

Devil's Garden Golf Club

Devil's Garden is a tough desert course located in the middle of a daunting desert in Arizona, USA. This course has a mixture of desert, bunkers, cactus and trees giving a very unique layout and feel. Being a Par 72 it is 6982 yards long.

El Cortante Golf Club

This parkland golf course is a Par 72, 7169 yard course, set just below the foot hills of the Sierra Nevada mountain range, in Spain. It is a very open style course, with a wide variety of traditional spanish trees and fauna, with several lakes abounding the course.

English Oaks Country Club

A rural English course, set in the south east of England, with huge distinctive bunkers and roaming fairways. The fairways are lined by a great selection of large mature trees such as Oak, Beech and Ash. Being a Par 72 with a distance of 7135 yards long.

Foothill Lakes Golf Club

Foothill Lakes golf course is 7076 yards in length and a Par 70, set just below a mountain range in Oregon, USA. With it's hard and dry fairways, it proves a challenge, when set against the vast undulations around most of the greens. The fairways are often surrounded by vast trees and the snake river, which runs through the course.

Georgetown Inlet Golf Links

Georgetown Inlet is a marsh land course located just south of Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, US. The course winds it's way through the dunes and is almost completely devoid of trees. This course is particularly tough because most fairways are lined by marsh land, so not for giving at all. It is a Par 72 with an overall distance of 7220 yards.

Grief Point Meadows Golf Club

Is a challenging Par 72, 7297 yard meadow course, located in Virginia, US. In the US Tour style format, whilst pristine in presentation, it's pine trees, pine needles and deep rough make making par very difficult. For those seeking an easy round, it might be best to avoid.

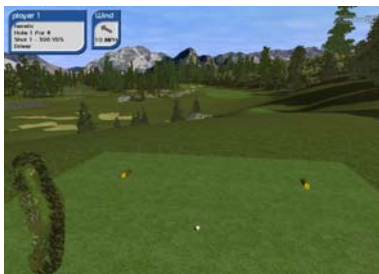

Hanauma Cliffs Country Club

Set in the beautiful state of Hawaii, in the US; Hanauma Cliffs is a volcanic golf course. There is in effect no rough on this course, off line and you are out of bounds on the volcanic rock, itself. The fairways and greens are in wonderful condition, with occasional palm trees and bunkers for company. This dramatic Par 72, 7169 yard course, has high mountains as a backdrop.

Heretic Golf Club

This course is set high in Idaho, US; it has pine trees and granite rocks, lining the curving fairways. Being a mountain course, there is often breezy wind conditions, to contend with. This Par 70, is 7087 yards in length and has dense pine forests for company, with long rough surrounding the fairways, not for beginners.

Klawhammer Crag Resort

Situated by the Mountainous Norwegian Fjords this is an exhilarating test to miss the fiords and actually hit the fairways. The fairways are lined by a mixture of tree, alpine fauna, bunker and the ever imposing fiords. To score well here is down to patience and percentage play.

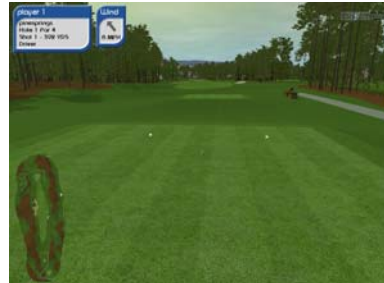

Kungsangen Golf Club

Kungsangen golf club is one of Sweden's leading golf facilities, the Kings course. Located just 25 minutes from Stockholm features trees, rolling fairways and plenty of water. Kungsangen is the ideal venue to enjoy a round of golf and test your ability against the professional as the course is used to host the Swedish open.

Pine Springs Golf Club

A traditional parkland golf course, set in the lowlands of South Dakota, US; this is a very beautiful and well manicured golf course. It is a Par 72 and is 7006 yards in length, there are several thousand pine trees, situated on the course. The Pine needles are Bunkers are the hazards, here.

Quinalt Golf Club

This parkland course has distinct hardwood trees, encapsulating the course. The fairways are wide and long, giving Quinalt golfers the ability to let rip with the driver. However strong winds make for a challenging layout, given that it is a Par 73, 7295 yard course. Located in North Carolina, in the US, the snow capped Appalachian Mountains, give a distinct backdrop.

Renaissance Golf & Country Club

The Renaissance Course is located on the plains of Ohio in the US. A fast open style course with rolling fairways, quick contoured greens are surrounded by bunkers. The fairways are surrounded by local trees, high rough and pretty wild flowers. It is a Par 71 covering 7002 yards.

Richland Country Club

This lake land course is 6907 yards long and a Par 71, it is situated in Florida, in the US. Most fairways have large lakes on one side and mature trees on the other. It is a challenging, well maintained golf course, showing the best attributes of American lake land golf.

Russet Hills Golf Club

A dramatic, undulating Connecticut golf course in the US, drawn during the fall. Showing the distinct and rich colourful flora and fauna. This course sweeps up through the pastures and into the densely tree covered hills. Being a Par 72, it expands into 7158 yards of golfing pleasure.

Spruce Plains Golf & Country Club

A narrow tree strewn parkland course, built through an ancient pine forest in North Dakota, in the US. Very soft greens mean it plays deceptively simple for accurate hitters. Although the valleys can become difficult when the wind gets up, it is a Par 71 covering 6699 yards.

The Hollow Country Club

The Hollow is set very close to the Mississippi River, in Mississippi, US. A great test of golf, where nature dominates, this links style golf course. Featuring undulating fairways and quick pulsating greens, this Par 74, 7385 yard course, is a must for those seeking a real challenge.

